As I began my new role as principal in July of this year, teachers and staff echoed the sense of something new, something different. As everyone took a breath after finishing the school year, there was a palpable anticipation of what was to come. Summer gave everyone a chance to embrace new beginnings that would be the start of the 2017-2018 school year. Now in November, only months after my start, the evidence of change continues to unfold. Our 1st annual alumnae event down the shore was well received, giving alums an opportunity to reconnect with one another. Our Sports Hall of Fame inductees celebrated their accomplishments as Basil alums and community leaders while humbly recognizing SBA as the start of their successes. This issue of the Basilian Legacy encapsulates the many achievements that have unfolded in the past months. As you turn each page, read about our student accomplishments, identify with our dedicated teachers, and aspire to reconnect with fellow alumnae at upcoming events.

As the season changes, I pause and gratefully acknowledge our graduates and friends for their continued financial support. With the changing of seasons comes a reassurance that new life and new opportunities are only around the corner. As we anticipate the change of seasons, let us remember that we are afforded the opportunity to be creative and explore ways in which we can work together to make new things happen. Just like our students embrace the unknown, opportunity invites us to open our hearts and minds to new ideas, to taking new risks, to becoming who God calls us to be and to do the work God asks of us. Growth calls us to be hopeful of the newness of the future.

This season let us work together and center our energies on realizing that growth. As Saint Basil believed, “that we should consider every season an opportunity for exercising zeal in that which is pleasing to God.” Let this season be one of change where our success is limitless when we are united in a common pursuit of academic and spiritual excellence, we educate the whole person by integrating faith and life. We awaken our students to the inherent beauty of God’s creation, and empower them to become the spiritual and visionary leaders who will enlighten and transform our global society.

For three years, the girl from Honduras shared great moments and experiences with her friends and the Sisters at SBA. Activities, school work, celebrations, and games, made her life so pleasurable. Many happy memories and lasting friendships were made. When the girl from Honduras graduated, her aunt came for her graduation. The girl was thrilled to see someone from her family after three years. As her departure grew closer, there was sadness to leave her beloved school, which had been her home away from home. She also shed tears of joy anticipating going back home to her loving family, her parents and her eight brothers and sisters. Three of her good friends from SBA as well as two Sisters of Saint Basil went to New York with her to see her off. She was so touched to see the Sisters who nurtured and educated her. That, however, is only part of the story of the girl from Honduras.

Two years later, the young woman from Honduras returned to Philadelphia and entered the Order of the Sisters of Saint Basil the Great, giving of herself, her time, and her love to the Saint Basil Academy community. Saint Basil Academy is such a wonderful gift to experience and after many year, the Academy continues to grow and excel in what it does best—educate, inspire and send its graduates to enlighten the world. I am asking you, my fellow “Basil Sisters” to join the Academy today in helping the young women who walk the same halls as we have in becoming the leaders of tomorrow.

Our Mission

Saint Basil Academy is a college preparatory school for young women, founded by the Sisters of the Order of Saint Basil the Great, and rooted in the Ukrainian Byzantine Tradition of the Catholic Church. We are dedicated to creating an environment nourished by the Gospel values of Jesus Christ in which young women can develop to the fullness of their Christian potential. Through academic excellence, we educate the whole person by integrating faith and life. We awaken our students to the inherent beauty of God's creation, and empower them to become the spiritual and visionary leaders who will enlighten and transform our global society.
Once again the grounds of Saint Basil Academy came to life as the carnival came to town from June 21-24th. The Academy welcomed not only our families and alumnae, but also the neighboring communities to enjoy this fun filled event.

Here at SBA you could enjoy such delights as walking tacos, pierogis, pizza and eggrolls, but also follow it up with your choice of funnel cake or gelato; all which was served by SBA’s very own faculty and volunteers. If you didn’t come for the food, you could get your face painted by our amazing students, and, of course, win a beta fish. All activities were also run by our devoted staff and parents.

Our carnival’s success was due to a remarkable group of volunteers that began planning this event back in January. We worked tirelessly to find the right blend of foods to showcase and hand-picked each ride to make sure all who attended had the best experience. The photos below highlight some of the happy faces.

OPEN HOUSE

Open House 2017 on October 8 was a huge success! Over 200 prospective students stepped foot on the campus at 711 Fox Chase Road and experienced first-hand how Saint Basil Academy prepares students academically and spiritually and lets each young woman be inexplicably her own unique self.

- Students and cheerleaders with pom-poms lined Panther Way, inviting and welcoming all families
- Student hospitality members greeted each family individually taking them on personal tours.
- Families experienced the band, handbells, and choir performing in the auditorium, and our pop-up madrigals performing sporadically throughout the building.
- Freshmen made slime in the science lab while talking about their experiences as new students in the school.
- Conversation and coffee with our principal, Mrs. D’Angelo, revolved around the SBA mission, identity, and our foundation in academic excellence.
- Students propelled objects at targets in the physics lab and engaged in Ancient Roman culture with the history and English departments.
- Open House highlighted SBA’s foundation in academic rigor coupled with its dedication to develop all facets of the individual student.
- The positive buzz in the community abounds! Each day more and more families are learning about the gem that is Saint Basil Academy, and we are looking forward to a great Class of 2022 joining our community.

Hugh McGovern, AD, inducted into Montgomery County Sports Hall of Fame.

This summer SBA received the exciting news that Hugh McGovern, Saint Basil Academy’s Athletic Director, would be inducted into Montgomery County’s Sports Hall of Fame. With his induction into this prestigious organization, Hugh joined former Olympians, accomplished college athletes/graduates of Montgomery County High Schools, and successful secondary and college level coaches.

Hugh McGovern’s athletic career started as a student at Father Judge High School, where he was also inducted into the Father Judge High School Hall of Fame in 2008. While at Father Judge, Hugh was an accomplished track athlete, earning “All-Catholic” and “All-City and State” champion honors in the 440 and 880 yard events both in 1963 and 1964. Upon graduation from high school, Hugh was awarded a full athletic scholarship to the University of Nebraska. There he continued to excel by breaking and holding numerous college track records, leading him to earn Big 8 and NCAA All-American titles in 1968, as well as a silver medal in the United States Track and Field Championships.

Hugh graduated from the University of Nebraska with a B.S. degree in Education, followed by a Master’s Degree in Education from Temple University. He was both a teacher and an athletic director at Springfield High School in Montgomery County for thirty-five years, and an assistant athletic director at Lansdale Catholic from 2005 through 2007. He joined the Saint Basil Academy community in 2008 as Athletic Director. Hugh’s leadership, guidance, and dedication to the Academy and the athletic programs have provided the inspiration for our sports teams to continue to earn championship titles at the Catholic Academy level, and titles in both District and State competitions. Hugh is particularly proud of the SBA athletes’ recognition by the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association through the PIAA Sportsman Award in 2009-2010 and 2014-2015.

Hugh resides in Abington, PA with his wife Liz, is a father of two sons and a grandfather of six. When not attending SBA athletic events, Hugh enjoys attending his grandchildren’s activities and relaxing at the South Jersey Shore.

Please join us in congratulating Hugh in honor of his induction into the Montgomery County Sports Hall of Fame. You can reach him by email at hmcgovern@stbasilacademy.org.

AP SUMMER INSTITUTE, LA SALLE UNIVERSITY

In July, two members of the SBA English Department, Christine Meko and Emily Kleinle attended the AP Summer Institute offered at La Salle University. This week-long program brings AP teachers from varied educational programs together in a classroom setting to be trained in all aspects of their respective AP classes from highly-qualified instructors certified by the College Board. The seminar provided the teachers opportunities to interact with other AP Literature and AP Language teachers and share instructional methods, planning strategies and successful test preparation tools. “Being new to the AP model, I was eager to gain information regarding the best way to structure the class and tackle the significant amount of material that needs to be covered,” said Mrs. Meko. “The instructor was extremely approachable, had many years of experience teaching AP Literature, and was incredibly generous with materials and recommendations for success. I entered this academic year really excited to bring what I learned into the classroom for the benefit of my students.” Mrs. Kleinle shared similar feedback on her seminar experience noting that “spending a week collaborating with other AP Language teachers not only offered new approaches to the material but reinforced the knowledge that many of the methods I have been using are right on the money.” Both teachers emphatically stated that the seminar is a “must-do” for every AP teacher and are grateful for the opportunity sponsored by SBA.

BEARING WITNESS WORKSHOP

Jacklyn Kazimir, Jean Castellano and Emily Kleinle attended Bearing Witness, a four-day workshop hosted by the Anti-Defamation League and The Archdiocese of Philadelphia at the Daylesford Abbey in Paoli, PA this summer. Bearing Witness is a professional development workshop designed for Catholic Educators to be able to teach the historical relationship between Jewish and Catholic communities. Specialists in the fields of Jewish studies, Holocaust studies, and Catholic-Jewish relations lead the program of study to help give Catholic Educators more resources on Anti-Semitism, The Holocaust, and modern day prejudices. Along with the four-day intensive workshop, there was a visit to the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington, D.C., a lecture at Georgetown University, and a visit to a local synagogue.

HONG KONG, CHINA

For the second summer in a row, I traveled to Hong Kong University to teach high school chemistry. As a staff of the Center for Talented Youth (CTY), a Johns Hopkins University program, I was the instructor for the Fast-Paced High School Chemistry course. This course is highly sought after among the Asian students and families. I had twenty students who had completed 8th, 9th or 10th grade, mostly in Hong Kong schools. As a residential program, these students eat and breathe chemistry for three weeks, six hours of lecture and lab during the day, and two hours of study hall every evening. Essentially these students learned the entire year of introductory chemistry in three weeks. Intellectually this job is very stimulating and exhilarating, but physically quite demanding, especially due to the monsoon summer weather in Hong Kong during July and the proximity of Hong Kong to the equator. In addition to the perks of travel in Asia, I am learning about the Asian students and schools, and growing professionally both in content and instructional strategies. Back at Saint Basil, I can share my observations with Basil girls and can offer meaningful advice on how to navigate the ever more competitive global academic environment.

TRAVEL FOR TEENS

This summer, Travel for Teens took SBA students on the adventure of a lifetime. We spent eleven days traveling to five cities in Spain, including Madrid, Segovia, Córdoba, Granada, and Sevilla. Some highlights included an amazing tour of fantastic artwork at the Prado Museum, relaxing in rowboats on the lake at the Parque del Retiro, a visit to the Alhambra, and even a trip to the Arab baths! We look forward to our upcoming trips to England in February and Costa Rica for sun, surf, and community service in the summer.

STUEBENVILLE YOUTH CONFERENCE, OHIO

Over the summer, 16 students from Saint Basil Academy attended University of Steubenville in Steubenville, Ohio for a Youth Conference. The students attended Main Campus 5 conference from Friday, July 21 to Sunday, July 23, 2017. The students gathered with about 3,000 high-school aged students from all over the world for a weekend of renewal, enlightenment, and encounter with Christ. Students attended daily Mass, attended several talks by renowned Catholic speakers, joined in praise and worship music, experienced Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, and had the opportunity to receive the Sacrament of Reconciliation. Those at the conference heard from an all-star cast of speakers such as Leah Darrow, Father Mike Schmitz, Matt Fradd, and Ennie Hickman. It was an incredible experience for the students to be able to praise Christ with so many other Catholics from around the world, and we look forward to attending another conference next summer.
Dear SBA Alumnae:

In Ecclesiastes 1:1-8 we read that “for everything there is a season, a time for every purpose under heaven.” This was, and continues to be, one of my favorite Scripture passages. And it is this passage that comes to mind when I think about Saint Basil Academy and the bright future that is ours. We, like almost every other educational institution, have weathered some trying times in the past few years, suffering the slings and arrows of declining enrollment and staff turnover. But under the steady and capable guidance and leadership of SBA’s Principal Connie D’Angelo, we are moving into a new season, an interesting and promising season.

Our new class of 82 freshmen will witness the Academy’s revamped and restructured goals, our enduring commitment to academic excellence, enabled and enhanced through technological advancements and superior staffing. One thing, however, that will remain constant is the type of students that we have always had and will continue to have. Since Saint Basil Academy was established, there has always been something special about our “girls.” This is something I hear echoed every day throughout the community. Visitors are overwhelmed with our students’ courteous manner, praising their sincere smiles and their welcoming greeting. They are all struck by the students’ willingness to be of service. Local employers marvel at the efficiency and preparedness of SBA students, whose work ethic and skills in many fields are a tribute to the high standards taught and expected by SBA faculty and administrators.

As I sit and reminisce over the years I spent at SBA, my heart is filled with gratitude and love for all the young women whose lives I touched and whose lives have touched mine. Each of you has a very special place in my memories, and I am most grateful for our work paid off.

Now it is time to continue the fine tradition that the Sisters of Saint Basil established so many decades ago and reap the harvest we have sown. We ask for the guidance of the Holy Spirit as we work to shape Saint Basil Academy into the best secondary school in the Philadelphia area. My prayers are offered for your intention. I ask God to be generous to us all.

Most Sincerely,

Sister Dorothy Ann Busowski, OSBM
Provincial Superior of the Sisters of Saint Basil the Great

BASILS AT THE BEACH

On Saturday, July 29, 2017 over 300 amazing alumnae gathered together at Flip Flop Bar and Grill in North Wildwood, NJ to join together at our first annual all class reunion at the Jersey shore. It was a wonderful day filled with memories shared of our days of walking the halls in our saddles, reminiscing about teachers who changed our lives and of course friends we still hold near and dear to our hearts. Attendees for this event ranged from the class of 1954 up to 2014 and all who attended had a wonderful time. Basils at the Beach t-shirts are still available. If interested, please contact Samantha Angelone (215) 885-3771 ext. 124 or via email sangelone@stbasilacademy.org.

The first Basils at the Beach was nothing short of success! It was great meeting with my sisters again and even some past Basil girls: Samantha Tacca, 2013.

I had a great time at the Basils at the Beach reunion. It was nice to see people I haven’t seen in years and be with my girls for a Girls’ Weekend. Supporting Basils at the same time was a bonus! I can’t wait to do it again next year!

Laura Maloney Rakowski, 1997

My classmates from 1985 and I had a wonderful time at Basils on the Beach. We are all Facebook friends and chat online often. But there is nothing better than getting together in person with longtime friends. We all knew each as awkward freshmen girls and it is great to see how everyone has blossomed into accomplished grown-ups. Over beers and roast beef, we chatted about our jobs, kids and families. We caught up with each other and re-established the bonds of friendship. I can’t wait to do it next year.

SISTERHOOD IS FOREVER

Pillar Highlights

Honorable Diane McMonagle Welsh '72

"Leave things better than you found them," is the motto Diane learned from the Sisters at Saint Basil Academy and the principle by which she has dedicated her life. After graduating SBA in 1972, Diane studied Political Science at La Salle University and then attended Villanova Law school. After graduation, Diane started her career as Counsel to the Pennsylvania Senate Judiciary Committee. As Deputy District Attorney for the Bucks County DA's office, Diane quickly became Chief of the Child Abuse Unit and the Victim Witness Assistance Unit. During her time, she was able to implement innovative multi-disciplinary approaches to child abuse investigations making the process less burdensome for children but effective in securing convictions.

In 1994, Diane was appointed to the United States Magistrate Judge for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. In her 12 years on the court, Judge Welsh gained a reputation for her extraordinary skill in helping parties settle the most complex, high stakes, and often contentious litigation.

In 2006, Judge Welsh joined JAMS-The Resolution Experts to become a full-time Mediator and Arbitrator. She has a national reputation as one of the most sought after and effective mediators in the U.S. She is regularly listed as the top mediator in numerous local and national legal publications.

Diane is currently the President of the Saint Basil Academy Alumnae Association. She is the owner of Moonstruck Restaurant and Joseph's Pizza in the Fox Chase section of Philadelphia. She is a member of "Les Dames d'Escoffier" which is an organization of women who have distinguished themselves in the hospitality field. Diane was also awarded the 1995 Panache Award for outstanding restaurateur. She has been involved with many charitable organizations including: Aids for Friends, SCAN (Stop Child Abuse Now), Thorncroft Therapeutic Equestrian Center and the Philadelphia Opera Company.

Upon graduating in 2001 with a BS in Psychology and from Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine in 2003 with an MS in Counseling and Clinical Health Psychology, she completed the Nonprofit Ascending Leadership Certificate Program in 2013 at Bryn Mawr College. Her passion is on helping homeless youth and youth in the foster care system.

Colleen worked for 12 years at Covenant House PA, a homeless shelter for youth under 21, in various roles including the Program Director. She began working for Valley Youth House in 2013 as the Associate Director of The Achieving Center in Philadelphia, which serves over 1000 older youth in foster care annually.

In her current role as Director Bucks and Montgomery County Programs which she has held since early 2016, she oversees 8 different programs across the two counties. Valley Youth House serves youth and families across Pennsylvania. The programs include a youth shelter, a street outreach program, a mentoring program, and various housing and independent living programs.
